REPORTS:

There has been a donation of books to the Library which Trevor will now check and log.

John Moss has stepped in to publish a very limited Cubby House News as our Editor Ray Elyard is not well.

Keith Allen reports that the Leader has not published any activities for several months.

John Moss has offered to do some training with the new members this coming Wednesday Day 15th July.

GENERAL BUSINESS:

Trevor Simpson raised the matter of Innaburra School visit this year and after some discussion it was decided that in order to limit the members possible exposure to covid-19 we would advise them that unfortunately we will not be in a position to hold this year's training sessions.

The matter of current tagging of all electrical machinery was raised and Frank Williams has offered to check out our options.

Bunnings have offered and we have agreed to hold a BBQ on Saturday 8th August. They have laid out a very detailed procedure to be followed and it remains to be seen as to whether we feel it is worthwhile to continue with them.

A decision will be made after the 8th.

There is no further business – I declare the meeting closed at: 10.30 am

Bandsaw Blades

Blade selection:

The number of Teeth Per Inch relates directly with the thickness of timber it is capable of cutting. The fewer the number of teeth, the more sanding will be needed to clean up the surface but will cut quite quickly, and the more the teeth the cleaner the cut will be but will cut a lot slower. Thicker timber is going to require a blade with less teeth to cope with such a cut.

The width of the blade, which is measured from the back of the blade to the tip of the teeth, will determine the radius the blade is capable of cutting, the smaller the blade means the tighter the radius possible. Likewise, the larger the size, the more it is designed for ripping in straight lines and less capable of cutting arcs and curves, to the point where only straight cutting will be done.
