INSERT LEVELLING

Levelling a homemade insert plate on your table saw can be a time-consuming process. But I found a quick and easy way to tackle this chore using a hot-melt glue gun and some paste wax.

I start by applying a coat of paste wax on the tabs that support the plate. After the glue is heated in the gun, squeeze a dab of glue onto each tab where they meet the insert, as shown in Step 1. Then press the plate into the opening until it's flush with the table. I use a straightedge, like the level shown in Step 2. The paste wax prevents the glue from sticking to the tabs. But it sticks to the insert plate to keep it level. In just a few seconds I have a flush insert plate that I can use over and over.

Jordan Shatsoff

I remember the cheese of my childhood

I remember the cheese of my childhood,
and the bread that we cut with a knife,
When the children helped with the housework,
and the men went to work, not the wife.

The cheese never needed an ice chest,
and the bread was so crusty and hot,
The children were seldom unhappy,
and the wife was content with her lot.

I remember the milk from the billy,
with the yummy cream on the top,
Our dinner came hot from the oven,
and not from the fridge in the shop.

The kids were a lot more contented,
they didn't need money for kicks,
Just a game with our mates in the paddock,
and sometimes the Saturday flicks.

I remember the shop on the corner,
where a pen'orth of lollies was sold,
Do you think I'm a bit too nostalgic,
Or is it... I'm just getting old?

I remember when the loo was the dunny,
and the dunny-man came in the night.
It wasn't the least bit funny going out the back with no light.

The interesting items we perused,
from the newspapers cut into squares,
and hung on a peg in the outhouse,
it took little to keep us amused.

The clothes were boiled in the copper,
with plenty of rich foamy suds.
But the ironing seemed never ending as Mum pressed everyone's duds.

I remember the slap on my backside,
and the taste of soap if I swore.
Anorexia and diets weren't heard of
and we hadn't much choice what we wore.

Do you think that bruised our ego?
Or our initiative was destroyed.

We ate what was put on the table!
And I think life was better enjoyed!

LIBRARY UPDATE

In the last Library Update (April 2019), I referred to a large number of "missing" library books. Thankfully 2 books have been returned, namely:

12.04.05 - Faceplate Turning and 12.13.05 - Segmented Wood Turning

Unfortunately the following 11 books remain outstanding; they are all extremely good reference books and I would love to see them again on our library shelves so that others may refer to them, or shock horror, borrow one.

13.05.18	Woodworking - Part 1	Bruce Leadbeater

May I ask each member to have a quick look through your own books to ensure one of the above have not been mixed up amongst them. I am not interested who has taken them, just return the books and put them on the librarian's desk when I, or Michael Bryant, are not there if necessary to save any embarrassment with a note saying "returned". Thankyou in anticipation.

*As usual, good reading & safe turning,
Trevor Simpson - Librarian*
